Hi Shannon,

Ministry staff have looked at the above-noted bylaw referral and consider the ministry's interests unaffected by this application.

Hi Shannon, thanks for your quick response. Below is our letter regarding request for rezoning:

We are contacting your office to confirm our objection to the zoning/bylaw amendment requested by 479 Johnson Crescent.

It's not personal, it's to ensure the on going well being and safety of our community.

Our rationale:

1. Approving this request sets a precedent for others to make similar requests. How then would the RDOS deny future similar requests? People in this area are inherent animal lovers. The RDOS would be setting a dangerous precedent.

2. This individual has already shown a disregard for existing bylaws, already housing excessive livestock. Who's to say this behavior will change with this approval. If their rationale on purchase was not being aware of the livestock restrictions then that's a matter for Realtor, not the RDOS.
3. Finally there is the health issue. The aquifer is already strained. The residents recently incurred a significant cost increase to improve our water system due to the high E.coli contamination. We're not biologists and can only assume the existing livestock restrictions were set for health reasons. Allowing an increased concentration of livestock on such a small property will potentially exacerbate an existing contamination challenge. (refer Rationale #1)

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Hello,

I noticed this sign. The lady who owns this property states she is an animal sanctuary. In the same breath she is planning on breeding her emaciated Great Dane for profit. It's Hypocritical because true sanctuaries do NOT breed for profit. Another concern is that she has difficulty, financially, affording the care of the animals on the property. The property has been over grazed as well, and the waste is not cleaned up regularly.

The horses body condition is degrading over the last few months. Evidently she thought two acres would sustain 8 animals without the need to supplement their diets with hay. She's now taken in boarders (people) to help afford the lifestyle.

If she is granted the rezoning, she shouldn't be allowed to breed the dog or have any more animals. The restriction should only be lifted temporarily until the animals die out. She seems to be an animal hoarder as there are numerous cats and dogs on site too. And the thought of breeding the great dane really is disgraceful since there's so many unwanted animals out there already. I can't imagine her keeping the puppies too. Omg Stay well, Jennifer

My comments / concerns are:

- I do support the proposed rezoning of the subject parcel.
- I do support the proposed rezoning of the subject parcel, subject to the comments listed below.
- I do not support the proposed rezoning of the subject parcel.

Written submissions received from this information meeting will be considered by the Regional District Board prior to 1st reading of Amendment Bylaw No. 2800.14.

This should not be allowed, parcel is not big enough for more animals.

Rules are put in place for a good reason and this rule should not be changed.

The zoning Amendment form has an error on the information. This parcel has septic, not community sewer.

Thank you for your time.

Feedback Forms must be completed and returned to the Regional District prior to noon on the day of the applicable Regional District Board meeting.

Good Morning Shannon,

Hope this finds you and the ones you care for well. I'm writing an e-mail, as I am not able to attend tonight's meeting at 7:30pm.

I'm writing as I'm not opposed to the application of allowing 8 livestock on the property, but I feel it should only be allowed for this one owner and have the Small Holdings Three Site Specific (SH3s) go back to Small Holdings Three (SH3) if the current owner sells the property.

In addition I think it should only be allowed on a temporary basis until all animals have aged out and the property owner is back down to the allotted amount of two livestock on the property.

Thank you,

Mirjam Grimm

Hi Tony,

I was just looking back on the bylaw referral that was sent out for RDOS File No. C2022.009-ZONE involving the property at 479 Johnson Crescent and noticed that I had misspelled your email address so it never went through to you. I apologise for the late referral on this as you should have received it last month. Please see the information below as well as the attached referral sheet:

The Regional District of Okanagan-Similkameen (RDOS) is seeking input from agencies whose interests may be affected by a zoning bylaw amendment.

Please find attached a referral for a Zoning Amendment Bylaw and a link above to the draft amendment bylaw and related documents. Please review this information and if you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Once reviewed, if you have any comments/concerns, please forward them to planning@rdos.bc.ca by July 25, 2022.

I did receive the information below as part of an email from Director Knodel so if you find this to be sufficient information to constitute your response, I can add that to the file. Otherwise, I will wait on your response.

Hello Director Knodel,

Regarding the proposed zoning change for 479 Johnson Crescent, Oliver, BC, as of this date, July 13, 2022, I do not support the zoning change for various reasons such as lack of enforcement on manure mitigation which could lead to issues with our community well and potential fires due to stockpiling of manure, the property owner claiming to be an animal sanctuary when that appears to be a false claim, and the possibility of this opening floodgates to other neighbours wishing to increase the number of animals on their properties.

Sincerely,

Tony Iannella

I do not support the rezoning of this property. Could be an animal hoarder, next a puppy mill. There are no shelters for the animals. This could set a precedence, and all of a sudden applications for cattle. Eight on such a small acreage is too much. Where is her septic tank. She is not on sewer.

Dear Shannon,

I am writing in regard to an application that was made by Diane Hunter at 479 Johnson Crescent in Willowbrook (Oliver) to have her property rezoned to allow her to keep multiple animals that she has rescued. I am not opposed to her having the animals she now has as she looks after them well and they are not a problem. I would agree to her having a temporary use permit for them as long as she does not add to the population and does not replace them as they die as some of these animals are old. I am opposed to having the property rezoned as it would set a precedent for others to do the same and could lead to potential problems in the future. We live in a peaceful neighbourhood and would like to see this matter resolved in a respectful and civil manner that would satisfy all parties. I think a temporary use permit would remedy the situation. I understand there is a meeting tomorrow which I am not able to attend that will address this application so I just wanted my thoughts on record. Thank you.

Written submissions received from this information meeting will be considered by the Regional District Board prior to 1st reading of Amendment Bylaw No. 2800.14.

I believe that a Temporary use Permit is appropriate for increased allowance for non-agricultural keeping of livestock reasons 1) Ensuring the increased allowance remains temporary 2) Temporary use is only permitted by current property owner. 3) CONDITIONS could be imposed to mitigate nuisances and conflicts with neighbouring property owners.

I believe there is a real concern with accumulation of manure "also referred to as unwholesome material" on this property

Hello,

I have just been sent the file regarding input on the proposed bylaw amendment at 479 Johnson Crescent, Oliver, BC.

On behalf of the Willowbrook Volunteer Fire Department, we have no objection to this application providing there is a stipulation that manure is not piled at the property. As I'm sure you're aware, manure piles generate massive amounts of heat and will self-combust so this is our biggest concern in our area with allowing more livestock on the property.

Thank you,

Tony Iannella
